Phillip H. Snowden is a self-employed attorney and real estate developer in north Kansas City. He has also worked as a consultant and Missouri state senator. He received his bachelor of arts in economics in 1960 and juris doctorate in 1964, both from MU. While attending Mizzou, Phil was a member of Phi Delta Theta, and Mystical Seven. His favorite Mizzou memory is when he quartered the Tigers in a 0-14 loss against Georgia in the Orange Bowl, January 1, 1960.

Phil and his wife Jane, who was the Mizzou Greek Week Queen, have been married for 52 years and have three daughters, Sharon, Kristin and Stephanie. Sharon and Stephanie are Mizzou graduates. Kristin attended Stanford and University of Chicago. Phil’s love and appreciation of Mizzou is part of the reason he joined the Economics Leaders’ Board.
